CRISIS IS COMING

AND WASHINGTON HAS THRILLS OVER MEXICAN SITUATION.

GLASS BILL WILL PASS

Senate, However, is Not So Sure—Representative Boohar Striving For Postoffice Positions.

(By W. C. Van Cleave.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—Official Washington is watching the Mexican situation with increasing interest. That a crisis is rapidly approaching is conceded by all, but whether chaos can be ended by peaceful means is a question no one wants to risk his judgment on. The foreign relations committee of the senate has been holding frequent meetings of late trying to get the situation in hand so as to be prepared to act in an emergency, while the president and secretary of state are known to be giving much thought to the matter. The dispatch of ex-Governor Lind as the personal agent of the president to treat with the Mexican provisional government is watched with keen interest.

Since Mr. Lind goes without government credentials and has no power to act officially, many who assume that he has been sent to ask Huerta to resign and give way to some other man predict that he is going "on a fool's errand," but the fact is that no one knows precisely what he has been sent to do or say. The president has kept his own counsel and no doubt has mapped out a definite diplomatic program that he expects will bear fruit. He is determined not to recognize as president the man whose first act was to have his conquered foe, Madero, murdered in cold blood, and the rebellion since the death of Madero seems to be not one united effort but numerous uprisings under independent leaders, who would not find common cause in case of victory and many of whom are mere bands of outlaws using the opportunity to rob and pillage the defenses.

The situation is a difficult one and is fraught with far reaching responsibilities and possibilities. It calls for the utmost care, patience and diplomacy and these may avail but little in the end. Mr. Lind is a Swede, does not speak Spanish and has no experience as a diplomat. His tact and good judgment are relied upon to carry him to success.

The Glass currency bill, which, in other words, is the president's measure, is now under consideration by the Democratic caucus of the house. As there is considerable opposition to the bill the discussions of the caucus will likely consume most of the week. The indications are that in the end the majority will endorse the measure and pass it through the house in deference to the expressed wishes of the president. What its fate will be in the senate is less certain. Senator O'Gorman and Senator Hitchcock have declared themselves in emphatic terms as against any currency legislation at this session, and there are others who are equally opposed who have not publicly expressed themselves. Some of the Republican senators have seized upon the president's determination to have immediate currency legislation as an excuse to delay the passage of the tariff bill. They have suddenly become more voluble and the discussion is moving more slowly. Senator Stone and others in charge have been driving hard, but a vote is a considerable ways off yet, and unless things are speeded up some way Panama hats and flannel trousers will be packed away in moth balls long before the currency bill becomes a law.

From a speech delivered in the senate Saturday by Senator Kenyon of Iowa it is surmised that some at least of the Progressives will vote for the tariff bill. If they do not, some of them will be in the position of having voted against the Payne-Aldrich bill in 1909 and for it in 1913.

The sudden death of Senator Johnson of Alabama leaves the Democratic majority in the senate reduced to only one, so far as the tariff bill is concerned. The two senators from Louisiana are expected to vote against the bill on account of the free sugar provision.

Representative Boohar has been busily engaged all summer laboring with the various department heads trying to advance the interests of his district in numerous ways and trying to secure an early settlement of post-office and other contests. Since the fourth class postoffices were covered under the civil service there has been a clamor from all over the country for changes which can only be effected through competitive examinations ordered by the department. The first step usually is to send out an inspector to investigate. Out of about three hundred of these only about thirty are Democrats and the majority of the reports recommend the retention of the old postmaster. Eventually it is the purpose of the department to order examinations all over the country, but the matter of accommodating forty-eight states, all of which are clamoring to be first on the list, is a tremendous task and calls for patience on the part of the patrons of the offices. Members of congress are keeping the way to the postoffice department hot trying to get all these matters cleaned up and to satisfy their constituents, and it is not their fault that everything is not done at once.

GOOD TOWN OR A BAD TOWN?

What One Paper Has to Say About Maryville.

The following is what this week's Stanberry Herald had to say about Maryville being wet and Nodaway county being dry:

Nodaway county, though dry by many hundred votes, goes on issuing saloon licenses. The county court and the town council granted them at their expiration.

This proves to us one of two things—that Maryville is either a good town or a bad town.

If, from the standpoint of the liquor interests, no town can be successful without saloons, then it must be a mighty good town, because it has two places where booze is dispensed, but, on the other hand, from a dry standpoint, a saloon cursed town is a bad proposition, then Maryville must be a hummer.

To a man down in this part of the country it looks as though hundreds of the voters of Maryville think more of the mighty dollar when voting than they do of the lives of the young man. They talk for local option in the country but vote for saloons in the town. They holler good Lord and pat the devil on the back.

It looks to us as though Maryville should have a revival at each church and call for mourners among their own people.

Mrs. Jacob A. Baugher of Skidmore was visiting Wednesday her daughter, Mrs. Patterson, who was operated on this week for appendicitis at St. Francis hospital.

BONDS ARE AHEAD

INDICATIONS AT 2 O'CLOCK WERE IN FAVOR OF ISSUE.

OVER 700 VOTES CAST

Three Precincts That Had Been Counted Gave Good Vote in Favor of the Bond Issue.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the vote that had been cast at the Polk township election for the $50,000 good roads bond issue indicates that the proposition will carry. At least at that time the proposition was ahead, and it is thought that the late vote will be favorable to the issue.

The vote that had been counted at 2 o'clock was as follows:

	For	Against
Precinct A.....	126	62
Precinct B.....	111	29
Precinct D.....	109	59

Total.....346.....150

Precinct C not counted then.

The total vote at the four precincts was as follows: Precinct A, 211; precinct B, 152; precinct C, 169; precinct A, 183, or a total vote of 715.

The vote in precinct C, which had not been counted at 2 o'clock, was reported as favorable for the bonds.

A great deal of interest was taken in the issue and there are many workers for and against it. The band furnished music during the day in the court house yard to keep up enthusiasm, and the saloons were closed.

The returns of the election will be received by The Democrat-Forum just as soon as the polls are closed this evening. Any one wishing to know the result are invited to call this office. The returns will also be received at The Democrat-Forum tent at Chautauqua grounds.

DEATH OF JOHN MCKNIGHT.

Passed Away at His Home in Burlington Junction This Thursday Morning.

John McKnight, a Nodaway county pioneer, father of Mrs. T. H. Cook of Maryville, died at 9:30 o'clock this morning at his home in Burlington Junction. Death came after a number of years of ill health. The funeral will take place from the home at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Mr. McKnight, who would have been 67 years old next Sunday, came to Nodaway county when a boy with his father. They came here from Illinois. John McKnight started in business as a raiser and buyer of stock before the railroads covered the county. He was compelled to drive his stock to Maryville for shipment, and it is said that he traveled afoot over every part of Nodaway county buying stock.

He was married to Ruth Bowman, and to them were born eight children. Mr. McKnight is survived by his widow, George McKnight of Burlington Junction, James McKnight of St. Joseph, Mrs. T. H. Cook of Maryville, Mrs. John Bliggs of Portland, Ore., and Miss Lulu McKnight of Burlington Junction. Mrs. Bliggs will be unable to attend the funeral.

Mr. McKnight had many friends all over the county. He was a staunch Republican in his political affiliations and served as a soldier during the entire civil war. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Prof. W. R. Lowry of the Hopkins schools was in Maryville Thursday on his way to his home in Hopkins. Prof. Lowry has been attending the summer school at Columbia.

A NEW PENSION BOARD.

One to Be Appointed For Maryville—The Ones Congressman Boohar Has Recommended.

A new pension examining board for Maryville will likely be appointed soon. Representative Boohar has recommended Drs. William Wallis, Sr., F. R. Anthony and K. C. Cummins for appointment. It was his original intention to name two Democrats and one Republican, but as the old board has been composed entirely of Republicans he decided it was nothing more than fair to make an entire change.

TO BE POLICEMEN

CO. F BOYS WILL HELP GUARD ST. JOSEPH'S FAIR.

Misleading Story of a Trip to Stanberry—Company to Go to State Encampment, Leaving Aug. 23.

Company F of the Fourth regiment, Maryville's aggregation of national guardsmen, will leave Saturday afternoon, August 23 in a special car over the Burlington for the annual state encampment at Nevada, Mo. There will be over forty of the members of the company that will make the trip.

There are to be seven days of camp life and sentry duty and forced marches and coffee and beans. Their expenses will be paid and their wages will be as follows: Privates will get 50 cents a day; corporals, 70; sergeants $1.00, and so on up.

Company F also has been selected as one of the companies to do police work at the interstate live stock show and fair to be held in St. Joseph September 22 to 27. While it is not compulsory for the members of the company to do this work, still a large majority of them will do so. Their expenses will be paid and they will also receive wages.

Company F is now getting ready for the encampment. They are after new recruits. No hike is to be taken to Stanberry by the company as stated in an afternoon paper of yesterday's issue.

Lester Bennett, who has been first lieutenant of Company F, has resigned. His place will be filled soon at an election of the company.

BARNARD PREPARES TO WORK.

Mass Meeting Held and Committees Appointed to Direct Work on Good Roads Days.

Barnard is already in line to do its full share on August 20-21, Missouri's good roads days, in response to the call of Governor Major.

A mass meeting of the citizens of Barnard was held on the streets of Barnard Wednesday night to organize for the united effort that is to be made for good roads.

Dr. M. M. Pollard was made chairman of the meeting, and a committee was appointed to confer with the residents on all roads leading into Barnard, as to the best way to organize for work on those days, August 20-21. This committee is composed of Judge R. F. Westfall, John A. Fields, S. H. Conlin, Dr. J. L. Gillette, L. B. Campbell and J. R. Strader.

Another committee was appointed to solicit money to apply on the road fund, and is composed of George Daniels, Dr. M. M. Pollard and B. C. Hartley.

The women of Barnard and community will do as much in the good roads cause as anyone by furnishing a good dinner for the men.

AN AMATEUR SHOW

CAMPERS STAGED UNADVERTISED NUMBER AT CHAUTAUQUA.

SPURGEON AND LANDON

Lecture by Divine, Impersonations of Character, and Music by Heron Sisters Made Up Day.

This Evening's Program.

7:45—Prelude concert, Heron Sisters.

8:30—Lecture by Dr. Woods.

Friday's Program.

10:00—Demonstration lecture, Mrs. Jones.

Afternoon:

2:00—Prelude concert, Missouri Ladies' Military band.

2:45—Humorous lecture, "Advice to Married People and Those Who Expect to Marry," Rev. D. Wm. Spurgeon of London.

4:30—Concert, Ladies' band.

Evening:

8:30—Lecture, "The Girl Who Can," Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones.

Wednesday was August 13, and it started unlikeli for the Chautauqua in the failure of James K. Vardaman, one of the principal speakers of the session, to come. This cut down the size of the afternoon crowd to some extent, but those who did attend were very well pleased with the substitute. Dr. William Spurgeon of London, who happened to be in town ahead of his date. The two prelude concerts by the Heron sisters were catchy and took well; a large audience attended in the evening to see and hear Sidney Landon in his character sketches; an amateur performance staged by some of the campers was put on after the regular evening program, so the day turned out to be a success after all.

Dr. Spurgeon was not to have appeared on the program until Friday, but being in town he took Vardaman's place and lectured on "An Englishman's View of Uncle Sam and His Country." This is the lecture he was to have given Friday, and in its place Dr. Spurgeon will talk on "Advice to the Married and Those Who Want to Be." He promised that he would tell the married folks how to get along better together, to tell the young women how to capture the right man and to tell the bachelors the manner of selecting the proper kind of a girl.

Dr. Spurgeon is well qualified to talk on America from an Englishman's viewpoint, for he has traveled in this country during the last ten or twelve years and has learned to know our real traits. His lecture contained both praise and criticism, but a criticism of the friendliest sort.

"The first impression ever made on me when I entered the United States," said he, "was not the sky scrapers of New York, but that great Statue of Liberty. It is the symbol of the freedom you offer to the people of the world, but I must utter a word of warning here. Unless you further restrict the immigration into your country you will continue to endanger it, for instead of getting the sturdy Scotch, Irish, Scandinavian and Germans of former years, you are now getting the scum of southern Europe."

The speaker went on to say that he soon found we were a hopeful people, and that we were a go-ahead people, combining the best qualities of the races which make up our population, and thus keeping up the life and spirit among ourselves. This he illustrated by the advanced, catchy and effective methods of the American advertiser. He found fault with us for being a hustling people, in that we held ourselves to the rush of business at the expense of health and happiness. Another fault he brought out is our tendency to brag and exaggerate. We must have everything in America bigger and grander and more awful than anywhere else. He further criticized the fact that our liberty too often degenerated into license.

Dr. Spurgeon closed by speaking of our great possibilities in natural resources and of our responsibilities of caring for these and not wasting them.

Following a popular concert by the Heron sisters came the evening entertainment by Sidney Landon. With cold cream, grease paint, powder and wigs he made up to impersonate such men as Mark Twain, Edgar Allan Poe and Bill Nye, together with such types of the old Hoosier. The impersonations were very life-like, and made an attractive entertainment.

After the downtown folks had left the grounds the campers again went to the big tent to see the amateur performance, which furnished as much fun as anything that has yet happened. Under the direction of Platform Manager Jim Farris every number was given as scheduled.

First was a song and dance by Messrs. Middleton and Miller ("Doc Miller and Edison Blagg"). Two of the (Continued on page 2.)

CAUGHT STEALING CHICKENS.

Walter Banta Was Captured by J. M. Kern After He Had Taken Sack Full of Chickens from Hen House.

Walter Banta, a young man of this city, was caught Wednesday night, taking a sack full of chickens from the hen house of J. M. Kern, living southeast of the city. Kern made Banta put the chickens back into the hen house and then took Banta to the county jail, where Sheriff Ed Wallace took charge of him. An information will be issued against Banta by Prosecuting Attorney Wright some time this afternoon. Kern has been watching his hen house and on Wednesday night discovered some one catching his chickens. So he got his shotgun and when Banta came out, there was no escape. The maximum punishment for stealing is two years in the penitentiary.

TO REFORM MISSOURI FARMING.

Definite Program Adopted by Committee in Interests of Agriculture.

A definite program to be followed by the bankers of Missouri in bettering farm conditions of the state is contained in the report of the committee on agricultural and good roads development of the Missouri Bankers' association, received yesterday. The committee met recently in Kansas City.

The employment of expert county farm advisers, the encouragement of young farmers to take the short course in agriculture at the state university, the aiding of rural school consolidations and the wider circulation of a Columbia farm publication, are the means urged upon bankers whereby they may help increase the welfare of the state by increasing that of the farmers. The report says:

A considerable number of the counties of the state have employed county advisers and the result in every county is very favorable. Your committee believes it to be desirable that the members of the Missouri Bankers' association use every effort at their command to encourage the employment of county farm advisers until every county in the state has been supplied.

The agricultural department of the state university at Columbia has provided a short course in agriculture that is particularly adapted to the needs of boys who have finished school at home and expect to follow farming as a profession.

This course can be taken in the late fall and winter, with little loss of time from the farm, and is sure to prove of untold value to every young man who will take advantage of it. We believe the bankers of the state can be of great benefit to their friends among the farmers by encouraging young men just beginning to farm for themselves, to take advantage of this department of the university. Information concerning this course will be cheerfully furnished by the university authorities.

At the recent session of the legislature two laws were passed which constitute a decided advance in educational matters in Missouri, and should eventually be a material factor in assuring agricultural betterment throughout the state.

The Buford-Coiley consolidation law provides for the consolidation of rural schools. This has been a much discussed subject of late years and most authorities believe that the consolidation of rural schools is not only one of the most perplexing problems of rural life.

The plan has been tried with eminent satisfaction in other states and should prove equally successful in Missouri. The law mentioned is regarded as one of the best on the question of consolidation ever passed. The McRobert high school aid law is designed to help struggling high schools in small towns. It has the hearty endorsement of the educational authorities and should prove a boon to communities which have not heretofore been able to enjoy the advantages of high school instruction. One feature of both laws in which your committee is particularly interested is the provision made that an approved course of at least one year in agriculture be given in the schools which expect to participate in the state aid available under these laws.

We understand that copies of these two laws will be ready for distribution to those interested some in August, and may be had by application to State Superintendent Evans. Your committee urges that this matter be taken up with parties in your community who may be interested and that any aid possible be given to communities desiring to take advantage of the provisions of the laws.

The report is signed by W. S. Wells, chairman; R. F. McNally and J. A. Chase. It is dated from Platte City Friday.

Mrs. Lucy Wright and Miss Eunice Wright went to Bedford Thursday, where they will locate. Miss Eunice has accepted a position as stenographer for Attorney Jackson of Bedford.

BOND FOR NEELEY

$500 FIXED AS AMOUNT AT PRELIMINARY HEARING.

WIFE AND SON APPEAR

Son and Other Witnesses Testified as to Divorce Suit and Remarriage of Dr. Neeley.

Dr. J. E. Neeley of Elmo, who is charged with bigamy, was bound over to the September term of circuit court at a preliminary hearing held this morning before Justice R. L. McDougal. Dr. Neeley pleaded not guilty to the charge at the hearing.

The hearing was held in the county court room. Prosecuting Attorney George Pat Wright and his assistant, M. E. Ford, were looking after this morning before Justice R. L. McDougal. Dr. Neeley pleaded not guilty to the charge at the hearing.

The hearing was held in the county court room. Prosecuting Attorney George Pat Wright and his assistant, M. E. Ford, were looking after this morning before Justice R. L. McDougal. Dr. Neeley pleaded not guilty to the charge at the hearing.

Mrs. Nora Neeley and son, Thomas Neeley of Calhoun, Mo., were present at the hearing. Mrs. Neeley is the main witness for the state, and at the trial will testify against Dr. Neeley. Prosecuting Attorney Wright presented the state's side of the case, and said that Dr. Neeley, the defendant in the case, was married for the first time in Maries county, Missouri, on March 31, 1892. Mr. Wright then told that Dr. Neeley married again on June 2, 1912, to Miss Bess K. Williams. The marriage took place in Maryville. A marriage certificate of the first marriage was introduced as evidence.

Attorney Dawson, for Dr. Neeley, made no statement.

Thomas Neeley, a son of Dr. and Mrs. Neeley, was the first witness. He gave his age as 18 years, and his home at Calhoun. He testified that his mother sued Dr. Neeley for divorce three or four years ago, but that the decree was not granted.

Recorder J. A. Wray was then called to the stand. He said that in June, 1912, a man and woman, giving their names as J. E. Neeley and Bess K. Williams, applied to him for a marriage license. Mr. Wray issued the license, and then at the request of Miss Williams that she would like to have a Methodist minister perform the marriage ceremony. Mr. Wray took the couple to the residence of Rev. J. S. Ford, pastor of the First Methodist church, and introduced them to Rev. Ford. Mr. Wray said that he did not stay for the ceremony, but that Rev. Ford returned to him the license with a marriage certificate. The witness testified that to all appearances the defendant was the same man J. E. Neeley who applied for the license.

Mr. Wray further said that in the afternoon of the day on which the license was issued, J. E. Neeley met him and asked if the matter of issuing the license could be kept out of the papers. Mr. Wray answered that it could not, except through the courtesy of the newspaper men. The two of them went to the Tribune office and Mr. Neeley asked H. F. McDougal, city editor of the Tribune, if he would keep the matter of the license out of the paper. Mr. McDougal seemed anxious to print the item, Mr. Wray said, and then Mr. Neeley asked what it would cost to keep it out of the paper.

Mr. Wray was then excused and Miss Gladys Ford, daughter of the late Rev. J. S. Ford, was called to the stand. She substantiated the testimony of Mr. Wray in regard to his bringing J. E. Neeley and Bess K. Williams to the Ford home and introducing them to Rev. Ford. She added that her father then performed the marriage ceremony and the couple left the house. She was sure that the defendant was the same J. E. Neeley.

H. F. McDougal was the last witness called to the stand, and he started to testify as to the conversation between him and Mr. Neeley, but the judge said that that had already been established, so Mr. McDougal was dismissed.

Justice McDougal then gave it as his opinion that the defendant had married Miss Bess K. Williams in the month of June, 1912, with the knowledge that he was still the lawful husband of his first wife, and that he must therefore be bound over to the circuit court for trial. The bond was fixed at $500 and was signed by E. M. Bailey and C. E. Beaver of Elmo.

Mrs. Will Schoonover went to St. Joseph Wednesday morning to visit Mrs. S. M. Smith.

This is Typhoid Time.

Why?
Because it is the time of year when flies are most numerous.

For the same reason it is the time of year when babies die by thousands of stomach complaints.

Physicians have traced these dis-

The fly that alights on your baby's

Obituary.

William S. Alexander was born at Bonaparte, Ia., September 25, 1840, and grew to manhood there. Having a desire for travel he made a trip across the plains to California in 1862. During his stay there he gave his attention to mining. After about two years of frontier life he returned to Iowa by way of the isthmus of Panama and New York. He married Marcella Fawcett, November 15, 1866, in VanBuren
county, Ia. To this union were born three sons, two of whom survive him.
He made his home in Appanosee and Wayne counties, Iowa, until 1878, at which time he moved to Pawnee county, Kansas, where he engaged in stock raising. While there he lost his wife and one son. In 1888 he came to Missouri and has resided in Nodaway county since. He married Ardelia A.
Lincoln July 24, 1890. In the winter of 1897 he, with his wife, visited his old home in Iowa, and in 1902 they made a trip to California, where they visited Mr. Alexander's many friends and relatives. He united with the Christian church of Pickering in the autumn of 1899, during Elder Chapman's ministry. He has been a faithful member since, having served as an elder of the congregation almost continuously since 1898, until he was physically disabled. He was a man who enjoyed his home life and deemed it a privilege to be able to entertain his friends. Having traveled extensively and being a close observer made him an exceptionally interesting conversationalist. He enjoyed also the correspondence which he kept up with his distant friends. He leaves to mourn his departure his wife, two sons, W. W.
Alexander of Hopkins and Floyd O.
Alexander of Pickering, together with a host of friends. He died August 8, 1913, at the age of 72 years, 10 months
and 13 days. The funeral services were conducted August 9, at the Christian church of Pickering, by the pastor, Rev. E. W. Killion. Interment took place in Hopkins cemetery.

Strange, But True.

"Yes," sighed the June bride, "marriage makes a big difference."
Her mother-in-law laughed.
"Can one month's experience really have taught you so much wisdom? But, tell me, child," she added, "what has George been doing? Is anything wrong?"
"Oh, no," said the girl; "I don't think anything is wrong!" She hesitated for a minute. "But d'you know," she confided, "whenever I sit on George's knee now his foot goes to sleep ever so much more quickly than it used to!"—Los Angeles Herald.

Egg Hatched in Case.

The Clarinda Poultry company
bought a case of eggs from a country
customer Wednesday morning, and later in the day a chicken hatched out in the case. They would not tell who the customer was, but we would hesitate a long time before we would buy any more eggs from that customer if we were the company.

On Visit to Denver.

Mrs. George Demott and daughters,
Lulu and Jessie Fay, left Thursday morning for Denver, Colo., on a visit to Mrs. Demott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Seigfried. Mr. Demott and son, John Allen, will join them later.

Big Surprise to Many in Maryville.

Local people are surprised at the quick results received from simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-Lika, the German remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis. W. Jones, druggist, states that this simple remedy draws off such a surprising amount of old food matter from the body that a single dose relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation instantly.
Druggist Shuff at Pickering reports
great success there.—Advertisement.

Miss Oppenheimer Leaves.

Miss Rhea Oppenheimer of Charlton,
Ia., the charming young Jewish girl
who has been the guest of Miss Ella Walton Frank the past week, returned to her home Wednesday. Miss Frank and her guest are classmates and roommates at Drake university at Des Moines.

Married at Graham.

Miss Ruby Noblet, daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Peter Noblet of Graham, and
J. Scott Hitchcock of Clarinda, Ia., were married Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, by Rev. H. K.
Morgan, pastor of the Methodist church
of Graham. They will make their home in Clarinda.

Will Move to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fisher of Caney, Kan., arrived in Maryville
Wednesday night for a week's visit with Mrs. Fisher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Orcutt. They will leave soon for California with a view of locating. This is Mrs. Fisher's first visit home since her marriage a year ago
in June.

Married by Rev. Cox.

Miss Bertha H. Hurst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hurst of Skidmore and Clarence H. Duffield of Glasford, Ia., were married Wednesday noon by Rev. Gilbert S. Cox at the First Methodist parsonage. Miss Elva Hurst and Mr. Hurst, sister and brother of the bride, were present. The young couple will make their home near Glasford,
where the groom has a farm.

Entertained at Dinner.

Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert S. Cox entertained at dinner Thursday noon Dr.
and Mrs. W. B. Christy of this city,
Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Brown of Maitland,
Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Royston of Barnard, and Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Ducker of Pickering. Revs. Brown, Royston and Ducker are Methodist ministers and are attending the Chautauqua being held in Maryville this week.

Entertained for Nieces.

Mrs. James B. Robinson entertained
a company of her girl friends informally Tuesday morning for the pleasure of her nieces, Misses Lela and Margaret Chilton of St. Joseph. The guests included the Misses Chilton, Miss Elise Jackson, Miss Laura Bar-
mann, Miss Marie Brink, Miss Helen Dunn of Bolekow, Miss Dorothy Dunn
of Chicago, Miss Ella Walton Frank and her guest, Miss Rhea Oppenheimer of Charlton, Ia.

Here For Chautauqua.

Mrs. J. W. Cotterall and twin daughters, the Misses Bonnie and Bonnie Cotterall, arrived Thursday noon to spend the remainder of the week as the Chautauqua guests of Misses Della and Kittie Grens. The St. Joseph Gazette contained quite a good story not long ago of "The Cotterall Twins," as they are known in St. Joseph, telling of the extraordinary and funny experiences they have because it is difficult to tell "which one is which,"
even by their teachers at school and their classmates. Mrs. Cotterall and her daughters will go from here to Pickering to spend the rest of the month of August with her relatives and old friends there.

The Rose If Off For Colorado.

Mrs. C. P. McCall and her daughter,
Miss Mary A. McCall, left Thursday morning on a two weeks' visit with Mrs. McCall's sons, C. J. and J. F.
McCall of Lamar, Col. They will be met at Fort Dodge, Kan., by Messrs.
McCall in their car and conveyed to Lamar.

This means that the Little Wild Irish Rose of the Tribune is off for her vacation. She is generally known as "the Tribune's society reporter," but
"Wild Irish Rose" suits her so much better that those who know her best prefer to call her so. The Rose has been languishing for many days in the hot weather we are all trying to endure, and she was threatening to wither and die soon. So in order to save her pretty, fresh, sweet, lovely life,
for we couldn't bear to do without her,
she was sent to Colorado to revive.

Was a Visitor Here.

M. E. Schnell, district passenger agent for the Chicago Great Western of Des Moines, Ia., was in Maryville
Thursday on business. Mr. Schnell says that they will probably have the two-cent fare on the Great Western within a short time. This road was exempted by the court from the two-cent fare.

Left For Texas.

Mrs. S. I. Bardick of Alpine, Texas,
who has been visiting her parents, Mr.
and Mrs. C. M. Casey for three months,
left for their home Thursday morning.
They were accompanied as far as St.
Joseph by Mr. and Mrs. Casey.

Here's another "How old is Ann?"
problem, proposed by the Lindsay
news: Methuselah is said to have lived to a greater age than any man, and it is recorded that he died before his father. Can you solve it?

N. Scott and sons of Independence were visiting in the city this week. Scott was formerly in business. Scott returned home and his boys will stay over.

Heron sisters in gorgeous gowns then rendered music on the violin and piano. P. O. Landon was at the piano in this act and Adolph Boek fiddled.
They responded to numerous encores.
Fred Lewis as Miss Leonora Allen of the Chicago Operatic company next delighted the audience with several solo numbers. Her high falsetto tones caused exclamations of admiration to escape from her hearers. Several exclamations of admiration to escape escape from her hearers. Several quartets, trios and quintets brought the program to a close with such classic selections as "Sarah Jane" and "Who Will Kiss Those Ruby Lips?"

Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones gave a domestic science lecture and demonstration at the assembly this morning.

The Thursday afternoon program opened with a prelude concert by the Heron sisters. The Rt. Rev. Fr. Nugent followed with a lecture, and the Maryville Concert band gave a concert.

Camp Gossip.

The first night without rain, and everybody made the most of it.

The women campers are either the most sensible women under the sun or else they are fit members of the Ananias club. A searching canvass of the grounds was made to get false hair
and rouge with which to disguise P. O.
Landon and others for the amateur show. It was only after the longest search with pleading on bended knees and vows of absolute silence that a few switches were obtained. All hope of ever getting any rouge had been given up, when at the last moment a box of it appeared mysteriously from nowhere. The owner need not fear exposure, for no one knows to whom it belongs.

Chautauqua works many wonders.
Grave and sedate business men and proud society women who scorn a Fourth of July celebration with its pop drinkers imbibe that liquid with avidity when sold at the Chautauqua grounds. Up to date 189 cases of pop have been sold there.

Stagger Inn is the name of the tent belonging to Edison Blagg, Kirby Taylor and Orlo Quinn.

Miss Helen Leffler and Miss Lulu
Todd, hostesses of Seldom Inn, entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rickenbrode, Miss Mabel Todd and Miss Helen Todd
at a picnic supper Wednesday evening.

Misses Lulu and Fay Snodgrass of Hopkins are the Chautauqua guests of Miss Mae Grovney. Miss Lulu Snodgrass has just returned from a several weeks' visit at Sheridan, Wyo.

The Elmo camp had for its visitors
Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffey and son of Clearmont, Miss Fern Biggs of Blanchard, Ia., and Mr. Sam
Taylor of Clearmont. The visitors came to attend the Chautauqua
Wednesday in Mr. Taylor's car.

At Mark Hanna's camp the Wednesday visitors were Mrs. Dallas Hurst and daughter, Misses Minnie and Della

The host and hostess of Mt. Ayr camp, Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Carmichael, and their guests, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. J.
T. Hanna of Bolekow, took dinner
Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
A. Kern. The visitors at Mt. Ayr camp
Wednesday were Mrs. Anna Gile, Mrs.
J. H. Anderson and their sisters, Mrs.
Jesse Miller of Stanberry; R. A. Neely of Bolekow and C. M. Alexander of Parnell.

The Wesleyan class of the First Methodist church Sunday school enjoyed a picnic supper at Chautauqua park Wednesday evening. The class president, Miss Nellie Wray, was made to relate many things regarding her recent trip to the Ozarks, near Springfield, when she traversed the country in the story of "The Shepherd of the Hills." This picnic supper lasted longer than is usual, and was notable for the thrilling interest of its story
and the conversation it brought out.

The Nicholas camp had guests at supper Wednesday evening. They were Miss Helen Powell, Miss Elsie Alkire, Miss Gladys Beadle and Welby Nicholas.

The extreme weather is affecting the enjoyment of the campers to quite a degree some days. Chautauqua park is generally pleasant and cool, but during the week past the heat has been so severe that there has been no cool spot
there until late in the evening. Everyone is holding himself quiet and good-natured, and the banqueting feature of the Chautauqua campers' life is not nearly so evident as in former years,
when cool weather and open air life
made it possible for him to eat at any and all times.

The Bridgits club will have a slum-per party Thursday night in Chautauqua park, when Miss Dorothy Dunn of Chicago will be the club's guest. The members are Miss Allie Fraser, Miss Anna Bainum, Miss Ruth Matter, Miss
Ruth Montgomery, Miss Grace Sturm,
Miss Mae Grovney, Miss Ella Walton
Frank, Miss Nova Airy, Miss Glen Hochkiss and Miss Helen Dunn of Bolekow.

Mrs. W. C. Van Cleave was the all-day
guest of Mrs. Leslie Dean at the Dean camp Wednesday.

Hopkins to Have Picnic.
Hopkins is going to have a picnic
on September 18, 19 and 20, and the following committee is in charge: T.

ROUND OAK

Has stood for the BEST that SKILLED labor and money could build for more than a quarter of a century and now they have put on the market a SCHOOL ROOM HEATER AND VENTILATOR and it has been planned and built with the SAME CARE and SKILLED LABOR as all Round Oak products.

THE R. O. ROOM HEATER is built like a furnace.

THE STEEL DRUM is built of No. 6 open hearth steel.

THE FIRE BOWL is an inch and a half thick of Best
R. O. gray casting.

R. O. CONE CENTER, ANTI-CLINKER GRATE.

BASE is cast in one piece, absolutely air-tight.

CASING for circulation of hot air is of planished iron outside and corrugated tin inside with 1/4 inch asbestos stove board between.

TWELVE INCH PLANISHED IRON FOUL AIR PIPE
connected so as to make a positive ventilation.

TWELVE INCH FRESH AIR INTAKE PIPE.

THE R. O. ROOM HEATER weighs complete, ready for shipment, about 1,200 pounds. In fact the R. O.
ROOM HEATER and VENTILATOR is BUILT as near CORRECT as an experienced and competent heating engineer could build it.

CARDUI WORKED LIKE A CHARM

After Operation Failed to Help,
 Cardui Worked Like a Charm.

Jonesville, S. C.—"I suffered with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. J. S.
 Kendrick, in a letter from this place,
 "and at times, I could not bear to stand
 on my feet. The doctor said I would never be any better, and that I would have to have an operation, or I would have a cancer.

I went to the hospital, and they operated on me, but I got no better. They said medicines would do me no good,
 and I thought I would have to die.
 At last I tried Cardui, and began to improve, so I continued using it. Now,
 I am well, and can do my own work.
 I don't feel any pains.

Cardui worked like a charm."
 There must be merit in this purely
 vegetable, tonic remedy, for women—
 Cardui—for it has been in successful
 use for more than 50 years, for the treatment of womanly weakness and
 disease.

Please try it, for your troubles.

WILSON AROUSES PRESIDENT'S IRE

Wrath of Executive Descends on Envoy for Criticizing Britain.

MUCH INCENSED BY STATEMENT

President Considers Accepting Resignation of Ambassador Wilson at Once—Foreign Governments Inclined to Support Policy of U. S.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The United States government has informally
 sounded the powers and learned that foreign governments generally will do nothing to embarrass the peace policy
 of President Wilson toward Mexico
 and are inclined to support it.

Henry Lane Wilson, whose resignation as ambassador to Mexico recently
 was accepted, to take effect Oct. 14,
 issued a statement attacking the reported statement of the British foreign
 office that recognition of the Huerta
 government has been extended after
 he had made a congratulatory speech
 to the provisional president.

President Wilson read the ambassador's statement and was so incensed
 at its tone and contents that he promptly requested Secretary Bryan
 to ascertain through the British embassy whether the utterance of the British foreign office as reported was correct, and the dismissal of Amba-
 sador Wilson by summary acceptance of his resignation to take effect immediately was under consideration by the administration.

Administration officials took particular exception to the ambassador's remarks "if this statement really eman-
 ated from the British foreign office it
 is at variance with its traditions and
 the character which it has maintained
 before the world for two centuries."

It was pointed out that should the British government's statement prove authentic, which is believed here to be
 the case, the American government
 would be in the embarrassing position
 of returning an official who had criticized a friendly nation.

Lind Is Making Progress.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Dispatches
 to the state department from John Lind described his visit with Frederico Gamboa, Mexican minister of foreign relations.

It was understood on good authority that the conversation extended beyond the mere formalities of a social
 call. Senator Gamboa and Mr. Lind talked briefly about the situation and
 Mr. Lind is declared to have set at rest rumors that he was coming to interfere in Mexican politics. The understanding in official circles is that
 Mr. Lind had intimated that the American government would continue to oppose recognition until a constitutional election was held.

H. R. TOWNE TESTIFIES

Tells Lobby Committee of Formation
 of Tariff Commission Association.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Henry R.
 Towne of New York told the senate
 lobby committee about the format on of the National Tariff Commission association, of which he was once president. Martin M. Mulhall had testified
 the National Association of Manufacturers was the chief factor in its organization.

Towne testified the association was formed at the Indianapolis convention
 in 1909, called by Henry Reisenberg,
 at which 232 commercial organization
 were represented.

Former Representative James E.
 Watson was employed by the association in April, 1909, after he left congress. Towne testified, in explaining
 two $500 drafts on the manufacturers
 drawn to Watson. He said the manufacturers had promised to contribute $1800 and gave it in the form of two
 drafts. He denied that the Tariff Commission tried to put men on the tariff
 board. In four years he said the commission has raised about $23,000.

Seven Drowned in Superior Bay.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 14.—Seven persons out of a party of twenty-three
 who started on a pleasure trip on a
 launch in Superior bay were drowned.
 The party, seated on the roof of the
 launch, was thrown into the bay by
 the swell of a passing tug. Nearby
 craft came to the rescue and all but
 seven of the twenty-three were saved.
 Later six bodies were taken from the
 bay.

Gronna Promotes Duty on Wheat.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Discussion of the agricultural schedule and the proposed free listing of wheat in particular entered the tariff discussion in the senate. Senator Gronna proposing
 in lieu of free wheat a duty of 6 cents
 a bushel. Action on the amendment was deferred owing to prolonged debate.

Southern Pacific Stock Crabbed Up.

New York, Aug. 14.—The managers
 of the syndicate organized to dispose
 of the $88,000,000 of Southern Pacific
 stock owned by the Union Pacific railroad company, announced that the entire amount had been more than twice
 subscribed for, with considerable European participation.

Ottumwa Lineman Killed in Fall.

Ottumwa, Ia., Aug. 14.—Leroy Watkins came in contact with a live wire
 when locating trouble for a local telephone company, and fell from the pole
 to the ground dying shortly after.

An Accident.

Wherever there is a particularly deplorable automobile accident in any community, there is a general tendency to point a moral, to declare
 "there ought to be a law," even to
 look askance at the pursuit of pleasure in any form which may not appeal
 specially to the individual critic or commentator.

There is no moral to be pointed in such incidents. There is needed only recourse to the simple old philosophy

that "accidents will happen."

Efforts to "place the blame" are usually all but childish. Since Absalom, son of David, escaped from the perils of battle, only to meet a tragic
 death by getting his hair entangled in
 a low hanging limb, mankind has met death in a million ways, and human
 experience cannot ward off the infinite
 variety of processes by which the Reaper makes his appearance.

We are reminded of Bret Hart's

poem in which those who were putting out to sea were cautioned against
 the dangers of the wave, but who
 breasted the storm, only to return to
 the village to find that it and the rock
 on which it was built had been swallowed up in an earthquake.

"In the midst of life we are in
 death" will always be true; and death
 will come to those who labor, or those
 who take their pleasures; to those who stay at home. "All seasons are

deaths."

Those who strive to shape a philosophy which shall leave tragedy out are engaged in the most futile of all occupations.—Holt County Sentinel.

To Go to Gallatin.

County Superintendent Wm. Oaker-
 son will leave for Gallatin this evening
 to attend the county school board convention. Mr. Oaker-son is on the program for an address.

Each year you have looked to the Cadillac for the real
 and substantial progress in motor car development.

You have looked to the Cadillac for the greatest essentials in the practical motor car.

And you have not looked in vain.

Now conceive, if you can, a Cadillac with its essential
 functions sharpened, accentuated and refined.

Conceive such a process of refinement culminating in
 an entirely new riding quality of unexampled ease.

That is precisely what has come to pass in this new car.

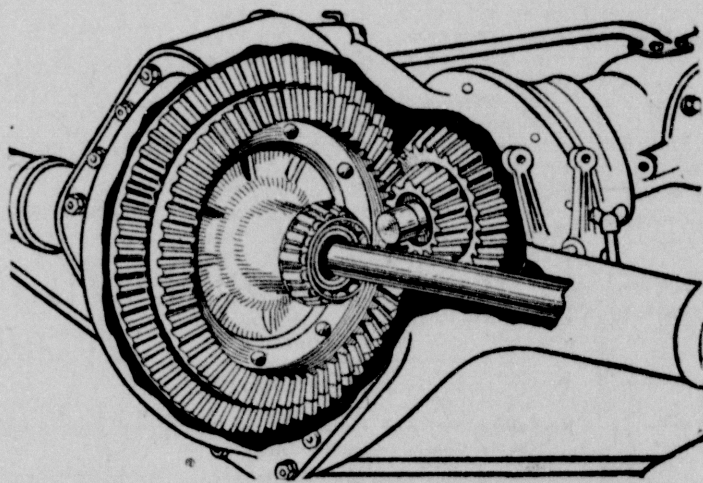

The principal contributing factor—the two speed direct
 drive axle—is described in detail elsewhere.

The Cadillac Delco electrical system of automatic crank-
 ing, lighting and ignition, the first practical system ever
 made and first introduced by us, has, after experience
 with it on 27,000 Cadillacs, been still further developed,

Cadillac two-speed direct drive axle

In place of the single bevel pinion and single bevel driving gear
 common to ordinary construction, there are two bevel pinions and two bevel driving gears. This affords two different gear ratios, each driving direct from the engine to the axle without intermediate gearing.

The usual single direct drive gear ratios range from about 3.5 to 1 down to 4 to 1 according to the car. Any single gear ratio is necessarily what it is because a single gear ratio must be, or should be, the particular one which is best adapted for all around general use.

No one single gear ratio can possibly be just right for all speeds and for all conditions. But by using two direct gear ratios we have exactly doubled the means for promoting the economical and efficient application of power developed by the engine to the driving of the car.

In the new Cadillac axle we have, as before stated, two direct drive gear ratios. The low direct drive gear, which is 3.66 to 1, is especially adapted for city driving, where starting, stopping and slowing down
 are frequent and where cautious operation is necessary.

The high direct drive gear ratio, which is 2.5 to 1, is of special advantage where speeds of about 16 miles or more per hour are permissible and desirable.

The change from one gear ratio to the other is made by means of
 a simple, convenient electric switch.

The advantages of the high direct drive gear ratio lie primarily
 in the fact that with it, any given speed of the engine produces an increased and simplified and the slight attention required

 from the user materially reduced.

The carburetor has been improved, its efficiency and its well-known economy increased. It is hot water jacketed and electrically heated to facilitate starting in cold weather.

The rear springs are six inches longer.

The body designs are new and strikingly handsome.

Front seat passengers may enter or leave the car at either side.

These and many other refinements of essential details make for a greater and a better Cadillac and serve to more firmly establish its position as America's leading motor car.

The Cadillac Company has never disappointed you in the smallest particular or in a single promise.

We promise you again, in this new car, a positive revelation in motor car luxury.

crease of about 42 per cent in the speed of the car. For example: at an engine speed of 700 revolutions per minute, with the low direct gear engaged the car will travel approximately 21 miles per hour; while on the high direct gear it will travel approximately thirty miles per hour
 with no increase in engine speed.

This great increase in car speed in its relation to engine speed accomplishes a number of desirable things.

Among these is a decrease in gasoline consumption for a given mileage. This is due to the fact that with the engine turning over slowly—comparatively speaking—a given quantity of gas is utilized to greater advantage and generates more actual power than with the engine turning over more rapidly. Friction also is materially reduced by reason of the parts operating more slowly and this, too, is a factor in reducing gasoline consumption when driving on the high gear.

Another great advantage is that with this direct drive high gear
 ratio, there is obtained an extraordinarily luxurious smoothness in running, together with a marked quietness and a comparative freedom
 from the vibration which, to a greater or less extent, is ever present
 when traveling at high speed with a low gear ratio.

In attaining these much desired qualities, instead of adding complications to the power plant which make for greater consumption and for greater upkeep expense, they have been attained by methods which are strikingly the reverse, viz., by methods which lessen the fuel consumption, methods which decrease friction with its resulting wear and methods which make for longer life, together with an appreciable decrease in the cost of operation and maintenance.

TWO MEN CLAIM TO BE GOVERNOR

Impeached by House, Sulzer
Will Resist Removal.

Lieutenant Governor Glynn Says He
Will Take Possession—Tammany
Crowd Asserts Office Has Been Already Vacated—Big Clash Expected.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 14.—With Governor Sulzer impeached by the assembly and the date of his trial before the senate and the judges of the court or appeals fixed for Sept. 18, the spectacle was presented today of two men claiming to be governor of the state of New York.

As soon as the articles of impeachment, adopted by the Democratic majority in the assembly, were presented to the senate, Lieutenant Governor Martin H. Glynn announced his intention of occupying the executive chamber.

Friends of Governor Sulzer said that the governor intended to continue in office and would use every weapon in his power to maintain his position, on the ground that the assembly had no constitutional right to consider impeachment at its extraordinary session.

Some asserted that the governor would go so far as to summon military protection if necessary to prevent the lieutenant governor from occupying the executive chamber.

Sulzer Silent.

The governor himself was silent. When he left his office in the capitol he was asked if he expected to return. "Yes, sir," he replied in angry tones.

So far as could be learned no attempt was made by Lieutenant Governor Glynn in any way to exercise the functions of chief executive, but there was every indication that there would be a clash of authority today when both men appeared at the capitol.

The lieutenant governor would not indicate what action he proposed to take, except to say that there would be "no circus or military maneuvers about occupying the executive chamber; the law is supreme."

Constitution Cited.

The inaction of Lieutenant Governor Glynn in the matter was in the face of arguments, given expression both in the senate and in the assembly, that at the moment the articles of impeachment were presented to the senate Governor Sulzer automatically ceased to be the chief executive. This contention was based on an article in the constitution which says that "in case of impeachment of the governor the powers and duties of the office shall devolve upon the lieutenant governor."

It was held by the majority leaders that the word "impeachment" corresponded with the word "indictment" in a criminal trial and that therefore in the meaning of the constitution the governor already stood impeached, even though not yet convicted and was, therefore, not eligible to hold his office.

No Statement From Mrs. Sulzer. Reports that Mrs. Sulzer would give out a statement setting forth the details of her alleged use of Governor Sulzer's campaign checks for stock speculation unknown to the governor did not materialize. Friends intimated that in view of the fact that Mrs. Sulzer probably will be called as a witness for the defense at the trial what she may have to say will be reserved until she takes the witness stand.

WOMEN DESCEND ON CAPITAL

Representatives of Four Million Female Voters in Washington.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Representatives of 4,000,000 women voters, comprising the National Council of Women Voters, began a three days' convention here to formulate plans for the submission of a resolution to the regular session of congress in December providing for an amendment to the federal constitution granting universal woman suffrage.

The determination of the women to begin a concerted move on congress was voiced by Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the congressional committee of the National American Woman's Suffrage association. She declared at the morning session that it was no longer practicable for the association to fight for the franchise, state by state, but that the time was ripe for an immediate concerted movement.

Speaker after speaker throughout the day's sessions spoke to the same effect and a resolution was adopted pledging the council to concentrate its support and that of the women's associations the country over to the federal suffrage amendment.

METALLIC CARTRIDGES
Made by the Foremost Ammunition Concern in America

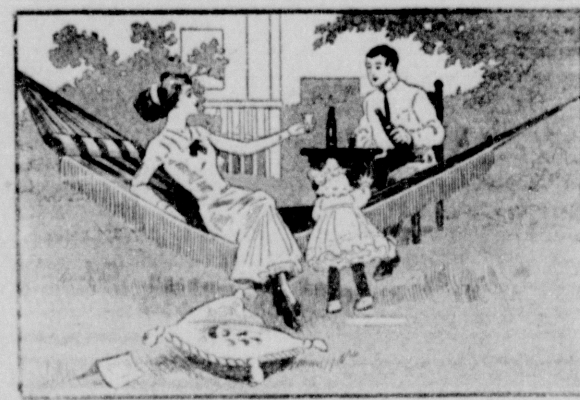

THE biggest name in the ammunition and firearms world today is Remington-UMC. Whether your arm is a Remington or any other standard make, whatever its calibre and the load you need, you want Remington-UMC metallics—not because they are necessarily stamped with the same name as your firearm, but because they give more accurate results.

This Company has been making ammunition for fifty years. We produce metallics for every standard make of arm—and every Remington-UMC cartridge is tested in the arm for which it is made.

There is a dealer in this community who can give you Remington-UMC Metallics for your rifle, your pistol. Find him. Ask him for them. Look for the Red Ball Mark on every box of metallics and shot shells you buy.

A Cruel Joke.

The Frankfort Index springs this one on its readers:

A high spirited girl recently played a cruel joke on her mother, and this is how it happened. She found a love letter that her father had actually written to her mother in the halcyon days of their courtship. She read the letter to her mother, substituting her own name and that of her lover. The mother stamped her foot in disgust, forbidding her daughter to have anything to do with a man who would write such nonsensical stuff to a girl. The girl then gave the letter to her mother to read, and the house became so suddenly quiet that they could hear the cat winking in the back yard.

CRISIS IS COMING

AND WASHINGTON HAS THRILLS OVER MEXICAN SITUATION.

Senate, However, Is Not So Sure—Representative Booher Striving For Postoffice Positions.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—Official Washington is watching the Mexican situation with increasing interest. That a crisis is rapidly approaching is conceded by all, but whether chaos can be ended by peaceful means is a question no one wants to risk his judgment on. The foreign relations committee of the senate has been holding frequent meetings of late trying to get the situation in hand so as to be prepared to act in an emergency, while the president and secretary of state are known to be giving much thought to the matter. The dispatch of ex-Governor Lind as the personal agent of the president to treat with the Mexican provisional government is watched with keen interest.

Since Mr. Lind goes without government credentials and has no power to act officially, many who assume that he has been sent to ask Huerta to resign and give way to some other man predict that he is going "on a fool's errand," but the fact is that no one knows precisely what he has been sent to do or say. The president has kept his own counsel and no doubt has mapped out a definite diplomatic program that he expects will bear fruit. He is determined not to recognize as president the man whose first act was to have his conquered foe, Madero, murdered in cold blood, and the rebellion since the death of Madero seems to be not one united effort but numerous uprisings under independent leaders, who would not find common cause in case of victory and many of whom are mere bands of outlaws using the opportunity to rob and pillage the defenseless.

The situation is a difficult one and is fraught with far reaching responsibilities and possibilities. It calls for the utmost care, patience and diplomacy and these may avail but little in the end. Mr. Lind is a Swede, does not speak Spanish and has no experience as a diplomat. His tact and good judgment are relied upon to carry him to success.

The Glass currency bill, which, in other words, is the president's measure, is now under consideration by the Democratic caucus of the house. As there is considerable opposition to the bill the discussions of the caucus will likely consume most of the week. The indications are that in the end the majority will endorse the measure and pass it through the house in deference to the expressed wishes of the president. What its fate will be in the senate is less certain. Senator O'Gorman and Senator Hitchcock have declared themselves in emphatic terms as against any currency legislation at this session, and there are others who are equally opposed who have not publicly expressed themselves. Some of the Republican senators have seized upon the president's determination to have immediate currency legislation as an excuse to delay the passage of the tariff bill. They have suddenly become more valuable and the discussion is moving more slowly. Senator Stone and others in charge have been driving hard, but a vote is a considerable way off yet, and unless things are speeded up some way Panama hats and flannel trousers will be packed away in moth balls long before the currency bill becomes a law.

From a speech delivered in the senate Saturday by Senator Kenyon of Iowa it is surmised that some at least of the Progressives will vote for the tariff bill. If they do not, some of them will be in the position of having voted against the Payne-Aldrich bill in 1909 and for it in 1913.

The sudden death of Senator Johnson of Alabama leaves the Democratic majority in the senate reduced to only one, so far as the tariff bill is concerned. The two senators from Louisiana are expected to vote against the bill on account of the free sugar provision.

Representative Booher has been busily engaged all summer laboring with the various department heads trying to advance the interests of his district in numerous ways and trying to secure an early settlement of post-office and other contests. Since the fourth class postoffices were covered under the civil service there has been a clamor from all over the country for changes which can only be effected through competitive examinations ordered by the department. The first step usually is to send out an inspector to investigate. Out of about three hundred of these only about thirty are Democrats and the majority of the reports recommend the retention of the old postmaster. Eventually it is the purpose of the department to order examinations all over the country, but the matter of accommodating forty-eight states, all of which are clamoring to be first on the list, is a tremendous task and calls for patience on the part of the patrons of the offices. Members of congress are keeping the way to the postoffice department hot trying to get all these matters cleaned up and to satisfy their constituents, and it is not their fault that everything is not done at once.

GOOD TOWN OR A BAD TOWN?

What One Paper Has to Say About Maryville.

The following is what this week's Stanberry Herald had to say about Maryville being wet and Nodaway county being dry:

Nodaway county, though dry by many hundred votes, goes on issuing saloon licenses. The county court and the town council granted them at their expiration.

This proves to us one of two things—that Maryville is either a good town or a bad town.

If, from the standpoint of the liquor interests, no town can be successful without saloons, then it must be a mighty good town, because it has two places where booze is dispensed, but, on the other hand, from a dry standpoint, a saloon cursed town is a bad proposition, then Maryville must be a hummer.

To a man down in this part of the country it looks as though hundreds of the voters of Maryville think more of the mighty dollar when voting than they do of the lives of the young man. They talk for local option in the country but vote for saloons in the town. They holler good Lord and pat the devil on the back.

It looks to us as though Maryville should have a revival at each church and call for mourners among their own people.

Mrs. Jacob A. Baugher of Skidmore was visiting Wednesday her daughter, Mrs. Patterson, who was operated on this week for appendicitis at St. Francis hospital.

BONDS ARE AHEAD

INDICATIONS AT 2 O'CLOCK WERE IN FAVOR OF ISSUE.

OVER 700 VOTES CAST

Three Precincts That Had Been Counted Gave Good Vote in Favor of the Bond Issue.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the vote that had been cast at the Polk township election for the $50,000 good roads bond issue indicates that the proposition will carry. At least at that time the proposition was ahead, and it is thought that the late vote will be favorable to the issue.

The vote that had been counted at 2 o'clock was as follows:

	For.	Against
Precinct A.....	126	62
Precinct B.....	111	29
Precinct D.....	109	59

Total.....346 150

Precinct C not counted then. The total vote at the four precincts was as follows: Precinct A, 211; precinct B, 152; precinct C, 169; precinct D, 183, or a total vote of 715.

The vote in precinct C, which had not been counted at 2 o'clock, was reported as favorable for the bonds.

A great deal of interest was taken in the issue and there are many workers for and against it. The band furnished music during the day in the court house yard to keep up enthusiasm, and the saloons were closed.

The returns of the election will be received by The Democrat-Forum just as soon as the polls are closed this evening. Any one wishing to know the result are invited to call this office. The returns will also be received at The Democrat-Forum tent at Chautauqua grounds.

DEATH OF JOHN MCKNIGHT.

Passed Away at His Home in Burlington Junction This Thursday Morning.

John McKnight, a Nodaway county pioneer, father of Mrs. T. H. Cook of Maryville, died at 9:30 o'clock this morning at his home in Burlington Junction. Death came after a number of years of ill health. The funeral will take place from the home at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Mr. McKnight, who would have been 67 years old next Sunday, came to Nodaway county when a boy with his father. They came here from Illinois. John McKnight started in business as a raiser and buyer of stock before the railroads covered the county. He was compelled to drive his stock to Maryville for shipment, and it is said that he traveled afoot over every part of Nodaway county buying stock.

He was married to Ruth Bowman, and to them were born eight children. Mr. McKnight is survived by his widow, George McKnight of Burlington Junction, James McKnight of St. Joseph, Mrs. T. H. Cook of Maryville, Mrs. John Bliggs of Portland, Ore., and Miss Lulu McKnight of Burlington Junction. Mrs. Bliggs will be unable to attend the funeral.

Mr. McKnight had many friends all over the county. He was a staunch Republican in his political affiliations and served as a soldier during the entire civil war. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Prof. W. R. Lowry of the Hopkins schools was in Maryville Thursday on his way to his home in Hopkins. Prof. Lowry has been attending the summer school at Columbia.

A NEW PENSION BOARD.

One to Be Appointed For Maryville—The Ones Congressman Booher Has Recommended.

A new pension examining board for Maryville will likely be appointed soon. Representative Booher has recommended Drs. William Wallis, Sr., F. R. Anthony and K. C. Cummins for appointment. It was his original intention to name two Democrats and one Republican, but as the old board has been composed entirely of Republicans he decided it was nothing more than fair to make an entire change.

TO BE POLICEMEN

CO. F BOYS WILL HELP GUARD ST. JOSEPH'S FAIR.

Misleading Story of a Trip to Stanberry—Company to Go to State Encampment, Leaving Aug. 23.

Company F of the Fourth regiment, Maryville's aggregation of national guardsmen, will leave Saturday afternoon, August 23 in a special car over the Burlington for the annual state encampment at Nevada, Mo. There will be over forty of the members of the company that will make the trip.

There are to be seven days of camp life and sentry duty and forced marches and coffee and beans. Their expenses will be paid and their wages will be as follows: Privates will get 50 cents a day; corporals, 70; sergeants $1.00, and so on up.

Company F also has been selected as one of the companies to do police work at the interstate live stock show and fair to be held in St. Joseph September 22 to 27. While it is not compulsory for the members of the company to do this work, still a large majority of them will do so. Their expenses will be paid and they will also receive wages.

Company F is now getting ready for the encampment. They are after new recruits. No hike is to be taken to Stanberry by the company as stated in an afternoon paper of yesterday's issue.

Lester Bennett, who has been first lieutenant of Company F, has resigned. His place will be filled soon at an election of the company.

BARNARD PREPARES TO WORK.

Mass Meeting Held and Committees Appointed to Direct Work on Good Roads Days.

Barnard is already in line to do its full share on August 20-21, Missouri's good roads days, in response to the call of Governor Major.

A mass meeting of the citizens of Barnard was held on the streets of Barnard Wednesday night to organize for the united effort that is to be made for good roads.

Dr. M. M. Pollard was made chairman of the meeting, and a committee was appointed to confer with the residents on all roads leading into Barnard, as to the best way to organize for work on those days, August 20-21. This committee is composed of Judge R. F. Westfall, John A. Fields, S. H. Conlin, Dr. J. L. Gillette, L. B. Campbell and J. R. Strader.

Another committee was appointed to solicit money to apply on the road fund, and is composed of George Daniels, Dr. M. M. Pollard and B. C. Hartley.

The women of Barnard and community will do as much in the good roads cause as anyone by furnishing a good dinner for the men.

Lecture by Divine Impersonations of Character, and Music by Heron Sisters Made Up Day.

This Evening's Program.

7:45—Prelude concert, Heron Sisters.

8:30—Lecture by Dr. Woods.

Friday's Program.

10:00—Demonstration lecture, Mrs. Jones.

Afternoon:

2:00—Prelude concert, Missouri Ladies' Military band.

2:45—Humorous lecture, "Advice to Married People and Those Who Expect to Marry," Rev. D. Wm. Spurgeon of London.

4:30—Concert, Ladies' band.

Evening:

8:30—Lecture, "The Girl Who Can," Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones.

Wednesday was August 13, and it started unluckily for the Chautauqua in the failure of James K. Vardaman, one of the principal speakers of the session, to come. This cut down the size of the afternoon crowd to some extent, but those who did attend were very well pleased with the substitute. Dr. William Spurgeon of London, who happened to be in town ahead of his date. The two prelude concerts by the Heron sisters were catchy and took well; a large audience attended in the evening to see and hear Sidney Landon in his character sketches; an amateur performance staged by some of the campers was put on after the regular evening program, so the day turned out to be a success after all.

Dr. Spurgeon was not to have appeared on the program until Friday, but being in town he took Vardaman's place and lectured on "An Englishman's View of Uncle Sam and His Country." This is the lecture he was to have given Friday, and in its place Dr. Spurgeon will talk on "Advice to the Married and Those Who Want to Be." He promised that he would tell the married folks how to get along better together, to tell the young women how to capture the right man and to tell the bachelors the manner of selecting the proper kind of a girl.

Dr. Spurgeon is well qualified to talk on America from an Englishman's viewpoint, for he has traveled in this country during the last ten or twelve years and has learned to know our real traits. His lecture contained both praise and criticism, but a criticism of the friendliest sort.

"The first impression ever made on me when I entered the United States," said he, "was not the sky scrapers of New York, but that great Statue of Liberty. It is the symbol of the freedom you offer to the people of the world, but I must utter a word of warning here. Unless you further restrict the immigration into your country you will continue to endanger it, for instead of getting the sturdy Scotch, Irish, Scandinavian and Germans of former years, you are now getting the scum of southern Europe."

The speaker went on to say that he soon found we were a hopeful people, and that we were a go-ahead people, combining the best qualities of the races which make up our population, and thus keeping up the life and spirit among ourselves. This he illustrated by the advanced, catchy and effective methods of the American advertiser. He found fault with us for being a hustling people, in that we held ourselves to the rush of business at the expense of health and happiness. Another fault he brought out is our tendency to brag and exaggerate. We must have everything in America bigger and grander and more awful than anywhere else. He further criticized the fact that our liberty too often degenerated into license.

Dr. Spurgeon closed by speaking of our great possibilities in natural resources and of our responsibilities of caring for these and not wasting them.

Following a popular concert by the Heron sisters came the evening entertainment by Sidney Landon. With cold cream, grease paint, powder and wigs he made up to impersonate such men as Mark Twain, Edgar Allen Poe and Bill Nye, together with such types of the old Hoosier. The impersonations were very life-like, and made an attractive entertainment.

After the downtown folks had left the grounds the campers again went to the big tent to see the amateur performance, which furnished as much fun as anything that has yet happened. Under the direction of Platform Manager Jim Farris every number was given as scheduled.

First was a song and dance by Messrs. Middleton and Miller ("Doc" Miller and Edison Blagg). Two of the (Continued on page 2.)

CAUGHT STEALING CHICKENS.

Walter Banta Was Captured by J. M. Kern After He Had Taken Sack Full of Chickens from Hen House.

Walter Banta, a young man of this city, was caught Wednesday night, taking a sack full of chickens from the hen house of J. M. Kern, living southeast of the city. Kern made Banta put the chickens back into the hen house and then took Banta to the county jail, where Sheriff Ed Wallace took charge of him. An information will be issued against Banta by Prosecuting Attorney Wright some time this afternoon.

Kern has been watching his hen house and on Wednesday night discovered some one catching his chickens. So he got his shotgun and when Banta came out, there was no escape. The maximum punishment for stealing is two years in the penitentiary.

TO REFORM MISSOURI FARMING.

Definite Program Adopted by Committee in Interests of Agriculture.

A definite program to be followed by the bankers of Missouri in bettering farm conditions of the state is contained in the report of the committee on agricultural and good roads development of the Missouri Bankers' association, received yesterday. The committee met recently in Kansas City.

The employment of expert county farm advisers, the encouragement of young farmers to take the short course in agriculture at the state university, the aiding of rural school consolidations and the wider circulation of a Columbia farm publication, are the means urged upon bankers whereby they may help increase the welfare of the state by increasing that of the farmers. The report says:

A considerable number of the counties of the state have employed county advisers and the result in every county is very favorable. Your committee believes it to be desirable that the members of the Missouri Bankers' association use every effort at their command to encourage the employment of county farm advisers until every county in the state has been supplied.

The agricultural department of the state university at Columbia has provided a short course in agriculture that is particularly adapted to the needs of boys who have finished school at home and expect to follow farming as a profession.

This course can be taken in the late fall and winter, with little loss of time from the farm, and is sure to prove of untold value to every young man who will take advantage of it. We believe the bankers of the state can be of great benefit to their friends among the farmers by encouraging young men just beginning to farm for themselves, to take advantage of this department of the university. Information concerning this course will be cheerfully furnished by the university authorities.

At the recent session of the legislature two laws were passed which constitute a decided advance in educational matters in Missouri, and should eventually be a material factor in assuring agricultural betterment throughout the state.

The Buford-Cooley consolidation law provides for the consolidation of rural schools. This has been a much discussed subject of late years and most authorities believe that the consolidation of rural schools is not only one of the most perplexing problems of rural life.

The plan has been tried with eminent satisfaction in other states and should prove equally successful in Missouri. The law mentioned is regarded as one of the best on the question of consolidation ever passed. The McRobert high school aid law is designed to help struggling high schools in small towns.

It has the hearty indorsement of the educational authorities and should prove a boon to communities which have not heretofore been able to enjoy the advantages of high school instruction. One feature of both laws in which your committee is particularly interested is the provision made that an approved course of at least one year in agriculture be given in the schools which expect to participate in the state aid available under these laws.

We understand that copies of these two laws will be ready for distribution to those interested some in August, and may be had by application to State Superintendent Evans. Your committee urges that this matter be taken up with parties in your community who may be interested and that any aid possible be given to communities desiring to take advantage of the provisions of the laws.

The report is signed by W. S. Wells, chairman; R. F. McNally and J. A. Chase. It is dated from Platte City Friday.

Mrs. Lucy Wright and Miss Eunice Wright went to Bedford Thursday, where they will locate. Miss Eunice has accepted a position as stenographer for Attorney Jackson of Bedford.

BOND FOR NEELEY

Son and Other Witnesses Testified as to Divorce Suit and Remarriage of Dr. Neeley.

Dr. J. E. Neeley of Elmo, who is charged with bigamy, was bound over to the September term of circuit court at a preliminary hearing held this morning before Justice R. L. McDougal. Dr. Neeley pleaded not guilty to the charge at the hearing.

The hearing was held in the county court room. Prosecuting Attorney George Pat Wright and his assistant, M. E. Ford, were looking after the state's side of the case, and Cook, Cummins & Dawson represented Dr. Neeley.

Mrs. Nora Neeley and son, Thomas Neeley of Calhoun, Mo., were present at the hearing. Mrs. Neeley is the main witness for the state, and at the trial will testify against Dr. Neeley.

Prosecuting Attorney Wright presented the state's side of the case, and said that Dr. Neeley, the defendant in the case, was married for the first time in Maries county, Missouri, on March 31, 1892. Mr. Wright then told that Dr. Neeley married again on June 8, 1912, to Miss Bess K. Williams. The marriage took place in Maryville. A marriage certificate of the first marriage was introduced as evidence.

Attorney Dawson, for Dr. Neeley, made no statement.

Thomas Neeley, a son of Dr. and Mrs. Neeley, was the first witness. He gave his age as 18 years, and his home at Calhoun. He testified that his mother sued Dr. Neeley for divorce three or four years ago, but that the decree was not granted.

Recorder J. A. Wray was then called to the stand. He said that in June, 1912, a man and woman, giving their names as J. E. Neeley and Bess K. Williams, applied to him for a marriage license. Mr. Wray issued the license, and then at the request of Miss Williams that she would like to have a Methodist minister perform the marriage ceremony, Mr. Wray took the couple to the residence of Rev. J. S. Ford, pastor of the First Methodist church, and introduced them to Rev. Ford. Mr. Wray said that he did not stay for the ceremony, but that Rev. Ford returned to him the license with a marriage certificate. The witness testified that to all appearances the defendant was the same man J. E. Neeley who applied for the license.

Mr. Wray further said that in the afternoon of the day on which the license was issued, J. E. Neeley met him and asked if the matter of issuing the license could be kept out of the papers. Mr. Wray answered that it could not, except through the courtesy of the newspaper men. The two of them went to the Tribune office and Mr. Neeley asked H. F. McDougal, city editor of the Tribune, if he would keep the matter of the license out of the paper. Mr. McDougal seemed anxious to print the item, Mr. Wray said, and then Mr. Neeley asked what it would cost to keep it out of the paper.

Mr. Wray was then excused and Miss Gladys Ford, daughter of the late Rev. J. S. Ford, was called to the stand. She substantiated the testimony of Mr. Wray in regard to his bringing J. E. Neeley and Bess K. Williams to the Ford home and introducing them to Rev. Ford. She added that her father then performed the marriage ceremony and the couple left the house. She was sure that the defendant was the same J. E. Neeley.

H. F. McDougal was the last witness called to the stand, and he started to testify as to the conversation between him and Mr. Neeley, but the judge said that that had already been established, so Mr. McDougal was dismissed.

Justice McDougal then gave it as his opinion that the defendant had married Miss Bess K. Williams in the month of June, 1912, with the knowledge that he was still the lawful husband of his first wife, and that he must therefore be bound over to the circuit court for trial. The bond was fixed at $500 and was signed by E. M. Bailey and C. E. Beaver of Elmo.

This is Typhoid Time.

Why? Because it is the time of year when flies are most numerous.

For the same reason it is the time of year when babies die by thousands of stomach complaints.

Physicians have traced these diseases directly to the fly.

The fly that alights on your baby's lips or crawls over your bread may have enough disease germs on its feet to infect an entire family.

Moz Cholera Near Hopkins.

According to the Hopkins Journal there is considerable hog cholera in various parts of this section of the state, some tributary to Hopkins. The new law makes it obligatory to burn all dead animals and to display yellow flags at all entrances to the farm where the plague exists. A heavy fine is liable where these precautions are not observed and the matter is reported to the prosecuting attorney.

Obituary.

William S. Alexander was born at Bonaparte, Ia., September 25, 1840, and grew to manhood there. Having a desire for travel he made a trip across the plains to California in 1862. During his stay there he gave his attention to mining. After about two years of frontier life he returned to Iowa by way of the Isthmus of Panama and New York. He married Marcella Fawcett, November 15, 1866, in VanBuren county, Ia. To this union were born three sons, two of whom survive him. He made his home in Appanoose and Wayne counties, Iowa, until 1878, at which time he moved to Pawnee county, Kansas, where he engaged in stock raising. While there he lost his wife and one son. In 1888 he came to Missouri and has resided in Nodaway county since. He married Ardella A. Lincoln July 24, 1890. In the winter of 1897 he, with his wife, visited his old home in Iowa, and in 1902 they made a trip to California, where they visited Mr. Alexander's many friends and relatives. He united with the Christian church of Pickering in the autumn of 1890, during Elder Chapman's ministry. He has been a faithful member since, having served as an elder of the congregation almost continuously since 1898, until he was physically disabled. He was a man who enjoyed his home life and deemed it a privilege to be able to entertain his friends. Having traveled extensively and being a close observer made him an exceptionally interesting conversationalist. He enjoyed also the correspondence which he kept up with his distant friends. He leaves to mourn his departure his wife, two sons, W. W. Alexander of Hopkins and Floyd O. Alexander of Pickering, together with a host of friends. He died August 8, 1913, at the age of 72 years, 10 months and 13 days. The funeral services were conducted August 9, at the Christian church of Pickering, by the pastor, Rev. E. W. Kilborn. Interment took place in Hopkins cemetery.

Strange, But True.

"Yes," sighed the June bride, "marriage makes a big difference." Her mother-in-law laughed. "Can one month's experience really have taught you so much wisdom? But, tell me, child," she added, "what has George been doing? Is anything wrong?" "Oh, no," said the girl; "I don't think anything is wrong!" She hesitated for a minute. "But you know," she continued, "whenever I sit on George's knee now his foot goes to sleep over so much more quickly than it used to!"—Los Angeles Herald.

Egg Hatched in Case.

The Clarinda Poultry company bought a case of eggs from a country customer Wednesday morning, and later in the day a chicken hatched out in the case. They would not tell who the customer was, but we would hesitate a long time before we would buy any more eggs from that customer if we were the company.

On Visit to Denver.

Mrs. George Demott and daughters, Lulu and Jessie Fay, left Thursday morning for Denver, Colo., on a visit to Mrs. Demott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Seigfried. Mr. Demott and son, John Allen, will join them later.

Big Surprise to Many in Maryville.

Local people are surprised at the quick results received from simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-Ika, the German remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis. W. Jones, druggist, states that this simple remedy draws off such a surprising amount of old foul matter from the body that a single dose relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation instantly. Druggist Shuff at Pickering reports great success there.—Advertisement.

News of Society and Womens' Clubs

Miss Oppenheimer Leaves.

Miss Rhea Oppenheimer of Charlton, Ia., the charming young Jewish girl who has been the guest of Miss Ella Walton Frank the past week, returned to her home Wednesday. Miss Frank and her guest are classmates and roommates at Drake university at Des Moines.

Married at Graham.

Miss Ruby Noblet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Noblet of Graham, and J. Scott Hitchcock of Clarinda, Ia., were married Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, by Rev. H. K. Morra, pastor of the Methodist church of Graham. They will make their home in Clarinda.

Will Move to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fisher of Caney, Kan., arrived in Maryville Wednesday night for a week's visit with Mrs. Fisher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Orent. They will leave soon for California with a view of locating. This is Mrs. Fisher's first visit home since her marriage a year ago in June.

Married by Rev. Cox.

Miss Bertha H. Hurst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hurst of Skidmore and Clarence H. Duffield of Glasford, Ill., were married Wednesday noon by Rev. Gilbert S. Cox at the First Methodist parsonage. Miss Elva Hurst and Mr. Hurst, sister and brother of the bride, were present. The young couple will make their home near Glasford, where the groom has a farm.

Entertained at Dinner.

Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert S. Cox entertained at dinner Thursday noon Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Christy of this city, Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Brown of Maitland, Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Royston of Earlward, and Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Ducker of Pickering. Revs. Brown, Royston and Ducker are Methodist ministers and are attending the Chautauqua being held in Maryville this week.

Entertained for Nieces.

Mrs. James B. Robinson entertained a company of her girl friends informally Tuesday morning for the pleasure of her nieces, Misses Lela and Margaret Chilton of St. Joseph. The guests included the Misses Chilton, Miss Elise Jackson, Miss Laura Barnum, Miss Marie Brink, Miss Helen Dunn of Bolckow, Miss Dorothy Dunn of Chicago, Miss Ella Walton Frank and her guest, Miss Rhea Oppenheimer of Charlton, Ia.

Here For Chautauqua.

Mrs. J. W. Cotterall and twin daughters, the Misses Bonnie and Bonnie Cotterall, arrived Thursday noon to spend the remainder of the week as the Chautauqua guests of Misses Della and Kittie Gremis. The St. Joseph Gazette contained quite a good story not long ago of "The Cotterall Twins," as they are known in St. Joseph, telling of the extraordinary and funny experiences they have because it is difficult to tell "which one is which," even by their teachers at school and their classmates. Mrs. Cotterall and her daughters will go from here to Pickering to spend the rest of the month of August with her relatives and old friends there.

The Rose if Off For Colorado.

Mrs. C. P. McCall and her daughter, Miss Mary A. McCall, left Thursday morning on a two weeks' visit with Mrs. McCall's sons, C. J. and J. F. McCall of Lamar, Col. They will be met at Fort Dodge, Kan., by Messrs. McCall in their car and conveyed to Lamar.

This means that the Little Wild Irish Rose of the Tribune is off for her vacation. She is generally known as "the Tribune's society reporter," but "Wild Irish Rose" suits her so much better that those who know her best prefer to call her so. The Rose has been languishing for many days in the hot weather we are all trying to endure, and she was threatening to wither and die soon. So in order to save her pretty, fresh, sweet, lovely life, for we couldn't bear to do without her, she was sent to Colorado to revive.

Was a Visitor Here.

M. E. Schnell, district passenger agent for the Chicago Great Western of Des Moines, Ia., was in Maryville Thursday on business. Mr. Schnell says that they will probably have the two-cent fare on the Great Western within a short time. This road was exempted by the court from the two-cent fare.

Left For Texas.

Mrs. S. I. Burdick of Alpine, Texas, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Casey for three months, left for their home Thursday morning. They were accompanied as far as St. Joseph by Mr. and Mrs. Casey.

Here's another "How old is Ann" problem, proposed by the Lindsborg news: Methuselah is said to have lived to a greater age than any man, and he is recorded that he died before his father. Can you solve it?

N. Scott and sons of Independence were visiting in the city this week. Scott was formerly in business here. Scott returned home and his boys will stay over.

Heron sisters in gorgeous gowns then rendered music on the violin and piano. P. O. Landon was at the piano in this act and Adolph Bock fiddled. They responded to numerous encores. Fred Lewis as Miss Leonora Allen of the Chicago Operatic company next delighted the audience with several solo numbers. Her high falsetto tones caused exclamations of admiration to escape from her hearers. Several exclamations of admiration to escape from her hearers. Several quartets, trios and quintets brought the program to a close with such classic selections as "Sarah Jane" and "Who Will Kiss Those Ruby Lips?"

Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones gave a domestic science lecture and demonstration at the assembly this morning.

The Thursday afternoon program opened with a prelude concert by the Heron sisters. The Rt. Rev. Fr. Nugent followed with a lecture, and the Maryville Concert band gave a concert.

Camp Gossip.

The first night without rain, and everybody made the most of it.

The women campers are either the most sensible women under the sun or else they are fit members of the Ananias club. A searching canvass of the grounds was made to get false hair and rouge with which to disguise P. O. Landon and others for the amateur show. It was only after the longest search with pleading on bended knees and vows of absolute silence that a few switches were obtained. All hope of ever getting any rouge had been given up, when at the last moment a box of it appeared mysteriously from nowhere. The owner need not fear exposure, for no one knows to whom it belongs.

Chautauqua works many wonders. Grave and sedate business men and proud society women who scorn a Fourth of July celebration with its pop drinkers imbibe that liquid with avidity when sold at the Chautauqua grounds. Up to date 150 cases of pop have been sold there.

Stagger Inn is the name of the tent belonging to Edison Blagg, Kirby Taylor and Orlo Quinn.

Miss Helen Leffler and Miss Lulu Todd, hostesses of Seldon inn, entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ribkenbrode, Miss Mabel Todd and Miss Helen Todd at a picnic supper Wednesday evening.

Misses Lulu and Fay Snodgrass of Hopkins are the Chautauqua guests of Miss Mae Growney. Miss Lulu Snodgrass has just returned from a several weeks' visit at Sheridan, Wyo.

The Elmo camp had for its visitors Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Griffey and son of Clearmont, Miss Fern Biggs of Blanchard, Ia., and Mr. Sam Taylor of Clearmont. The visitors came to attend the Chautauqua Wednesday in Mr. Taylor's car.

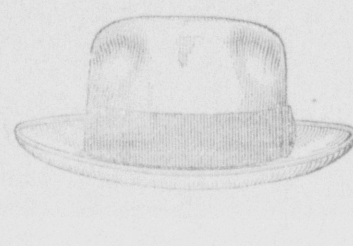

At Mark Hanna's camp the Wednesday visitors were Mrs. Dallas Hurst and daughter, Misses Minnie and Della.

CARDUI WORKED LIKE A CHARM

After Operation Failed to Help,
 Cardui Worked Like a Charm.

Jonesville, S. C.—"I suffered with womanly trouble," writes Mrs. J. S.
 Kendrick, in a letter from this place,
 "and at times, I could not bear to stand
 on my feet. The doctor said I would never be any better, and that I would
 have to have an operation, or I would
 have a cancer.

I went to the hospital, and they operated on me, but I got no better. They
 said medicines would do me no good,
 and I thought I would have to die.
 At last I tried Cardui, and began to
 improve, so I continued using it. Now,
 I am well, and can do my own work.
 I don't feel any pains.

Cardui worked like a charm."
 There must be merit in this purely
 vegetable, tonic remedy, for women—
 Cardui—for it has been in successful
 use for more than 50 years, for the
 treatment of womanly weakness and
 disease.

Please try it, for your troubles.

WILSON AROUSES PRESIDENT'S IRE

Wraith of Executive Descends on Envoy for Criticising Britain.

President Considers Accepting Resig-
 nation of Ambassador Wilson at Once—Foreign Governments In-
 clined to Support Policy of U. S.

Washington, Aug. 14.—The United States government has informally
 sounded the powers and learned that foreign government generally will do
 of President Wilson toward Mexico
 and are inclined to support it.

Henry Lane Wilson, whose resig-
 nation as ambassador to Mexico recently
 was accepted, to take effect Oct. 14,
 issued a statement attacking the reported statement of the British foreign
 office that recognition of the Huerta
 government has been extended after
 he had made "a congratulatory speech"
 to the provisional president.

President Wilson read the ambassador's statement and was so incensed
 at its tone and contents that he
 promptly requested Secretary Bryan
 to ascertain through the British embassy whether the utterance of the British foreign office as reported was correct, and the dismissal of Ambassador Wilson by summary acceptance of his resignation to take effect immediately was under consideration by
 the administration.

Administration officials took particular exception to the ambassador's remarks "if this statement really eman-
 ated from the British foreign office it
 is at variance with its traditions and
 the character which it has maintained
 before the world for two centuries."

It was pointed out that should the British government's statement prove
 authentic, which is believed here to be
 the case, the American government
 would be in the embarrassing position
 of returning an official who had criticised a friendly nation.

Lind Is Making Progress.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Dispatches
 to the state department from John Lind described his visit with Frederico Gamboa, Mexican minister of foreign relations.

It was understood on good authority that the conversation extended be-
 call. Señor Gamboa and Mr. Lind
 talked briefly about the situation and
 Mr. Lind is declared to have set at rest rumors that he was coming to interfere in Mexican politics. The understanding in official circles is that
 Mr. Lind had intimated that the American government would continue to
 oppose recognition until a constitutional election was held.

H. R. TOWNE TESTIFIES

Tells Lobby Committee of Formation
 of Tariff Commission Association.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Henry R.
 Towne of New York told the senate
 lobby committee about the formation of the National Tariff Commission association, of which he was once president. Martin M. Mulhall had testified
 the National Association of Manufacturers was the chief factor in its organization.

Towne testified the association was formed at the Indianapolis convention
 in 1909, called by Henry Reisenberg,
 at which 232 commercial organization
 were represented.

Former Representative James E.
 Watson was employed by the association in April, 1909, after he left congress. Towne testified, in explaining
 two $500 drafts on the manufacturers
 drawn to Watson. He said the manufacturers had promised to contribute
 $1,000 and gave it in the form of two
 drafts. He denied that the Tariff Commission tried to put men on the tariff
 board. In four years he said the commission has raised about $29,000.

Seven Drowned in Superior Bay.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 14.—Seven persons out of a party of twenty-three
 who started on a pleasure trip on a
 launch in Superior bay were drowned.
 The party, seated on the roof of the
 launch, was thrown into the bay by
 the swell of a passing tug. Nearby
 craft came to the rescue and all but
 seven of the twenty-three were saved.
 Later six bodies were taken from the
 bay.

Gronna Promotes Duty on Wheat.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Discussion of the proposed tariff schedule and the proposed free listing of wheat in particular, influenced the tariff discussion in
 the senate. Senator Gronna proposing to levy a duty of 5c on wheat. Action on the amendment was deferred owing to prolonged debate.

Southern Pacific Stock Crabbed Up.

New York, Aug. 14.—The managers
 of the syndicate organized to dispose
 of the $88,000,000 of Southern Pacific
 stock owned by the Union Pacific railroad company, announced that the entire amount had been more than twice
 subscribed for, with considerable European participation.

Ottumwa Lineman Killed in Fall.

Ottumwa, Ia., Aug. 14.—Leroy Wat-
 kins came in contact with a live wire
 when locating trouble for a local telephone company, and fell from the pole
 to the ground dying shortly after.

An Accident.

Wherever there is a particularly de-
 plorable automobile accident in any
 community, there is a general ten-
 dency to point a moral, to declare
 "there ought to be a law," even to
 look askance at the pursuit of pleasure in any form which may not appeal
 specially to the individual critic or
 commentator.

There is no moral to be pointed in
 such incidents. There is needed only
 recourse to the simple old philosophy

that "accidents will happen."

Efforts to "place the blame" are
 usually all but childish. Since Absa-
 lom, son of David, escaped from the
 perils of battle, only to meet a tragic
 death by getting his hair entangled in
 a low hanging bough, mankind has met
 death in a million ways, and human
 experience cannot ward off the infinite
 variety of processes by which the Reaper makes his appearance.

We are reminded of Bret Hart's

poem in which those who were putting out to sea were cautioned against
 the dangers of the wave, but who
 breasted the storm, only to return to
 the village to find that it and the rock
 on which it was built had been swal-
 lowed up in an earthquake.

"In the midst of life we are in
 death" will always be true; and death
 will come to those who labor, or those
 who take their pleasures; to those
 who stay at home. "All seasons are

deaths."

Those who strive to shape a philosophy which shall leave tragedy out are
 engaged in the most futile of all occupations.—Holt County Sentinel.

To Go to Gallatin.

 son will leave for Gallatin this evening

 vention. Mr. Oaker-son is on the program for an address.

Cadillac leadership in scientific motor car development is once more strikingly demonstrated

A new quality of luxury
A new element of efficiency A new source of economy

Each year you have looked to the Cadillac for the real
 and substantial progress in motor car development.

You have looked to the Cadillac for the greatest essentials in the practical motor car.

And you have not looked in vain.

Now conceive, if you can, a Cadillac with its essential
 functions sharpened, accentuated and refined.

Conceive such a process of refinement culminating in
 an entirely new riding quality of unexampled ease.

That is precisely what has come to pass in this new car.

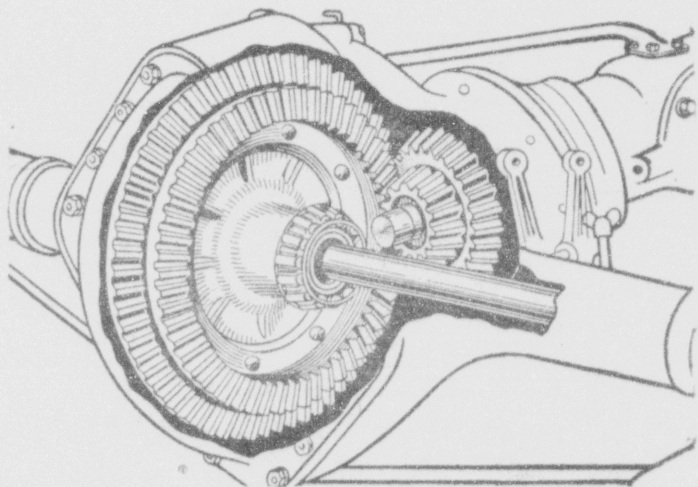

The principal contributing factor—the two speed direct
 drive axle—is described in detail elsewhere.

The Cadillac Delco electrical system of automatic crank-
 ing, lighting and ignition, the first practical system ever
 made and first introduced by us, has, after experience
 with it on 27,000 Cadillacs, been still further developed,

Cadillac two-speed direct drive axle

In place of the single bevel pinion and single bevel driving gear
 common to ordinary construction, there are two bevel pinions and two bevel driving gears. This affords two different gear ratios, each driving direct from the engine to the axle without intermediate gearing.

The usual single direct drive gear ratios range from about 3.5 to 1 down to 4 to 1 according to the car. Any single gear ratio is necessarily what it is because a single gear ratio must be, or should be, the particular one which is best adapted for all around general use.

No one single gear ratio can possibly be just right for all speeds
 and for all conditions. But by using two direct gear ratios we have exactly doubled the means for promoting the economical and efficient application of power developed by the engine to the driving of
 the car.

In the new Cadillac axle we have, as before stated, two direct drive gear ratios. The low direct drive gear, which is 2.66 to 1, is especially adapted for city driving, where starting, stopping and slowing down
 are frequent and where cautious operation is necessary.

The high direct drive gear ratio, which is 2.5 to 1, is of special advantage where speeds of about 16 miles or more per hour are permissible and desirable.

The change from one gear ratio to the other is made by means of
 a simple, convenient electric switch.

The advantages of the high direct drive gear ratio lie primarily
 in the fact that with it, any given speed of the engine produces an increase of about 42 per cent in the speed of the car. For example: at an engine speed of 700 revolutions per minute, with the low direct gear

 engaged the car will travel approximately 21 miles per hour; while on the high direct gear it will travel approximately thirty miles per hour
 with no increase in engine speed.

This great increase in car speed in its relation to engine speed accomplishes a number of desirable things.

Among these is a decrease in gasoline consumption for a given
 mileage. This is due to the fact that with the engine turning over slowly—comparatively speaking—a given quantity of gas is utilized to greater advantage and generates more actual power than with the engine turning over more rapidly. Friction also is materially reduced by reason of the parts operating more slowly and this, too, is a factor in reducing gasoline consumption when driving on the high gear.

Another great advantage is that with this direct drive high gear
 ratio, there is obtained an extraordinarily luxurious smoothness in
 running, together with a marked quietness and a comparative freedom
 from the vibration which, to a greater or less extent, is ever present
 when traveling at high speed with a low gear ratio.

In attaining these much desired qualities, instead of adding complications to the power plant which make for greater consumption and
 for greater upkeep expense, they have been attained by methods which are strictly the reverse, viz., by methods which lessen the fuel consumption, methods which decrease friction with its resulting wear and methods which make for longer life, together with an appreciable decrease in the cost of operation and maintenance.

A Cruel Joke.
The Frankfort Index springs this one on its readers:

A high spirited girl recently played a cruel joke on her mother, and this is how it happened. She found a love letter that her father had actually written to her mother in the halcyon days of their courtship. She read the letter to her mother, substituting her own name and that of her lover. The mother stamped her foot in disgust, forbidding her daughter to have anything to do with a man who would write such nonsensical stuff to a girl. The girl then gave the letter to her mother to read, and the house became so suddenly quiet that they could hear the cat winking in the back yard.

TWO MEN CLAIM TO BE GOVERNOR

Impeached by House, Sulzer
Will Resist Removal.

MAY RESORT TO ARMED FORCE

Lieutenant Governor Glynn Says He
Will Take Possession—Tammany
ready Vacated—Big Clash Expected.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 14.—With Governor Sulzer impeached by the assembly and the date of his trial before the senate and the judges of the court of appeals fixed for Sept. 18, the spectacle was presented today of two men claiming to be governor of the state of New York.

As soon as the articles of impeachment, adopted by the Democratic majority in the assembly, were presented to the senate, Lieutenant Governor Martin H. Glynn announced his intention of occupying the executive chamber.

Friends of Governor Sulzer said that the governor intended to continue in office and would use every weapon in his power to maintain his position, on the ground that the assembly had no constitutional right to consider impeachment at its extraordinary session.

Some asserted that the governor would go so far as to summon military protection if necessary to prevent the lieutenant governor from occupying the executive chamber.

Sulzer Silent.

The governor himself was silent. When he left his office in the capitol he was asked if he expected to return. "Yes, sir," he replied in angry tones.

So far as could be learned no attempt was made by Lieutenant Governor Glynn in any way to exercise the functions of chief executive, but there was every indication that there would be a clash of authority today when both men appeared at the capitol.

The lieutenant governor would not indicate what action he proposed to take, except to say that there would be "no circus or military maneuvers about occupying the executive chambers; the law is supreme."

Constitution Cited.

The inaction of Lieutenant Governor Glynn in the matter was in the face of arguments, given expression both in the senate and in the assembly, that at the moment the articles of impeachment were presented to the senate Governor Sulzer automatically ceased to be the chief executive. This contention was based on an article in the constitution which says that "in case of impeachment of the governor the powers and duties of the office shall devolve upon the lieutenant governor." It was held by the majority leaders that the word "impeachment" corresponded with the word "indictment" in a criminal trial and that therefore in the meaning of the constitution the governor already stood impeached, even though not yet convicted and was, therefore, not eligible to hold his office.

No Statement From Mrs. Sulzer.
Reports that Mrs. Sulzer would give out a statement setting forth the details of her alleged use of Governor Sulzer's campaign checks for stock speculation unknown to the governor did not materialize. Friends intimated that in view of the fact that Mrs. Sulzer probably will be called as a witness for the defense at the trial what she may have to say will be reserved until she takes the witness stand.

Representatives of Four Million Female Voters in Washington.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Representatives of 4,000,000 women voters, comprising the National Council of Women Voters, began a three days' convention here to formulate plans for the submission of a resolution to the regular session of congress in December providing for an amendment to the federal constitution granting universal woman suffrage.

The determination of the women to begin a concerted move on congress was voiced by Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the congressional committee of the National American Woman's Suffrage association. She declared at the morning session that it was no longer practicable for the association to fight for the franchise, state by state, but that the time was ripe for an immediate concerted movement.

Speaker after speaker throughout the day's sessions spoke to the same effect and a resolution was adopted pledging the council to concentrate its support and that of the women's associations the country over to the federal suffrage amendment.
